

Suzanne Venker BIO

SUZANNE VENKER is an author and cultural critic, and a nationally recognized expert on America's current gender war. Her passion is to tell women what the media won't about men, marriage, work & family so they can make smart decisions in life and in love.

Suzanne is a Fox News contributor, a columnist at PJ Media and a trustee at Leading Women for Shared Parenting, an organization that recognizes children need both parents. Her bestselling eBook, "The War on Men," was fashioned from her article of the same name that became the #1 op-ed in Fox News history. The result was a barrage of media backlash and an appearance on "The View," where Suzanne enjoyed friendly banter with guest host Mike Tyson while fielding attacks from Whoopi and Joy.

Suzanne's forthcoming book (February 2017), The Alpha Female's Guide to Men & Marriage, helps women with domineering personalities learn to let go and find peace with the man in their lives. Her other books include The Two-Income Trap, How to Choose a Husband and The Flipside of Feminism.

Suzanne has written for many publications, including Time, Parents, New York Post, and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. She has also been featured in The Wall Street Journal, as well as in Newsweek, The Atlantic, The Economist, The Huffington Post and London's Daily Mail.

Suzanne's TV credits include STOSSEL, The View, Fox & Friends, ABC News, CNN, C-Span's Book TV and more. She has appeared on hundreds of radio shows throughout the country; and her work has been featured on "The Dr. Laura Program," "The Late Show with Stephen Colbert" and "The Rush Limbaugh Show."

Suzanne graduated from Boston University in 1986. Today she lives in St. Louis, MO, with her husband of 18 years and their two teenagers.